

Continuing education credits

The Institute for the Advancement of Human Behavior (IAHB), the sponsor of the three-day cognitive behavior therapy (CBT) workshops at the Beck Institute, has been approved as a provider of continuing education (CE) and continuing medical education (CME) by the organizations below. Many states accept offerings accredited by national or other state organizations. If your state is not listed, please check with your professional licensing board to determine whether the accreditations listed are accepted.
